

LexCase

Retained by laboratories and medical device manufacturers, the life sciences practice at LexCase advises on regulatory matters spanning the full life cycle of healthcare products, from clinical trials through to market access. Practice co-head Diane Bandon-Tourret, who has 'an excellent network of contacts and a deep knowledge of the French healthcare system', also handles contentious work, notably serial product liability matters, and regularly appears before the French regulators. A differentiating feature of the group is its strong public law experience in the form of Alain de Belenet and Raphaël Apelbaum, who is dual-qualified in Paris and New York.

Practice head(s): Diane Bandon-Tourret; Alain de Belenet; Raphaël Apelbaum

Testimonials

'Very high level of competence, expertise and reactivity.'

'Agile collaborators and very adaptable to client needs.'

'Diane Bandon-Tourret is a driving force. She has an excellent network of contacts and a deep knowledge of the French healthcare system.'